

Samantha Jauregui

I am the Administrative Lieutenant for San Diego Humane Society overseeing communications for our Humane Law Enforcement Dispatch, as well as the training of our dedicated Humane Law Enforcement Officers. I have been with the organization for the past seven years, previously working as a Foster and Rescue Specialist.

I have always had a passion for animal welfare and education and with San Diego Humane Society I have been able to dive into the heart of our community and work every day to make an impact for the animals that we love and the people who care for them. I believe true change begins within and education is a tool we can use to unlock our potential for compassion.
